

Banana Coast in Trujillo Launched Official Website

Filed in archive Tourist Attractions by Gloria Gamat on June 4, 2010

© intimaralem85

Honduras' first mainland cruise port scheduled to open in 2012 in the town of Trujillo - Banana Coast - has launched its official website: www.bananacoast.com.

Trujillo is a city and a municipality on the northern Caribbean coast of the Honduran department of Colón. It is the capital of Colón.

Banana Coast will offer cruisers a combination of the natural attractions of Trujillo with high-quality passenger facilities and amenities. The project will feature Banana Coast Landing -- a themed retail destination with approximately 50,000 square feet of shopping, a restaurant and an excursion marina all framed by the town's tropical setting.

Trujillo is a small town with a population of 30,000 located on Honduras' northern coast, overlooking Trujillo Bay- a natural, protected deep-water harbor discovered by Christopher Columbus in 1502.

Banana Coast is slated to receive its first cruise passengers in 2012.